

Privacy Policy

CliMates Austria – November 2019

This Privacy Policy informs you in accordance with European law (General Data Protection Regulation EU 2016/679 and the Data Protection Act (DSG)) about what we do with your data as well as if and how we store it. If you have questions, simply mail us at hello@climatesaustria.org.

Who we are

Die Adresse unserer Website ist: <https://climatesaustria.org>.

Bei Anregungen und Fragen zum Datenschutz kannst du uns unter hello@climatesaustria.org kontaktieren.

Where our data is

Our website is hosted by domaintchnik.at. The servers are located exclusively in Vienna. A transmission to cloud services, external service providers, external locations or the like did not take place.

What personal information we collect and why we collect it

Our server automatically stores data such as the URL of the page visited, the page you visited, your browser and the version of which operating system you use, the host name and IP address of your device (from which you access), and the date and time of your visit. Usually these data are deleted after two weeks. It will not be passed on to third parties by our side, unless these data are inspected in case of unlawful conduct (in accordance with Article 6 (1) of the GDPR, lawfulness of the processing)

Comments

When visitors write comments on the site, we collect the data displayed in the comment form, as well as the IP address of the visitor and the user agent string (which identifies the browser), to support the detection of spam.

From your email address, you can create an anonymous string (called a hash) and submit it to the Gravatar service to see if you're using it. The privacy policy of the Gravatar service can be found here: <https://automattic.com/privacy/>. Once your comment is shared, your profile picture will be publicly visible in the context of your comment.

Media

If you're a registered user and are uploading photos to this website, you should avoid uploading photos with an EXIF GPS location. Visitors to this website could download photos stored on this website and extract their location information.

Cookies

When you post a comment on our website, it may be a consent to save your name, email address and website in cookies. This is a convenience feature, so you do not have to re-enter all this data if you write another comment. These cookies are stored for one year.

If you have an account and sign up for this site, we will set a temporary cookie to see if your browser accepts cookies. This cookie contains no personal information and is discarded when you close your browser.

When you sign up, we will set up some cookies to store your login and viewing options. Log-in cookies expire after two days and cookies for display options after one year. If you select "Stay signed in" when signing up, your registration will be maintained for two weeks. Logging out of your account will delete login cookies.

When you edit or publish an article, an additional cookie is stored in your browser. This cookie contains no personal information and only refers to the post ID of the item you have just edited. The cookie expires after one day.

Embedded content from other websites

Posts on this site may contain embedded content (eg, videos, pictures, posts, etc.). Embedded content from other websites behave exactly as if the visitor had visited the other website.

These websites may collect data about you, use cookies, embed additional third-party tracking services, and record your interaction with this embedded content, including your interaction with the embedded content if you have an account and are logged in to this website. We do not have access to this data.

The following links lead you to the pages of the respective social media services where it is explained how they deal with your data:

Instagram: <https://help.instagram.com/519522125107875>

YouTube: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy>

Twitter: <https://twitter.com/privacy>

Analysis Services

We do not use website analytics services.

Who we share your data with

We do not share your information with anyone.

How long we save your data

When you write a comment, it will be stored indefinitely including metadata. That way, we can automatically detect and approve episode comments instead of keeping them in a moderation queue.

For users who register on our website, we also store the personal information they provide in their user profiles. All users can view, change or delete their personal information at any time (the user's name cannot be changed). Site administrators can also view and change this information.

What rights you have to your data

If you own an account on this site or have written comments, you may request that we export your personal information to us, including any data you have provided to us. In addition, you may request the deletion of any personal information we have stored about you. This does not include the data we need to retain for administrative, legal or security-related needs.

Where do we send your data

Visitor comments could be examined by an automated spam detection service.

Newsletter

If you subscribe to our newsletter in Telegram, you submit the data provided by Telegram and give us the right to contact you via telegram message. We use the data saved in the registration for the newsletter exclusively for our newsletter and do not pass this on.

If you want to unsubscribe from the newsletter, - either a personal message to our account with "stop" or an independent withdrawal from the channel - then we delete all data that was saved with the registration for the newsletter.